The role of a company secretary of a Hong Kong listed issuer has overtime become more demanding and important. It is doubtful how persons who are not professionally trained, qualified and subject to continuous professional developments as qualified professionals, to take on the role of the company secretary of a listed company. The proposed codification as described in paragraph 71 of the Consultation Paper would defeat the original intent and spirit of Main Board Rule 3.28 which is to ensure a listed company would have a qualified person, in terms of professional qualification or relevant experience, to ensure regulatory compliance by the listed issuer and uphold the corporate governance standard set out in the Listing Rules.

The "location of the principal business activities of a listed issuer" is quite an irrelevant factor when considering whether a waiver under Rule 3.28 should be granted, as all issuers listed on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange is required to comply with the Listing Rules irrespective of the location of their principal business activities.

Further, it is difficult to follow the argument in paragraph 70 that an unqualified person is "generally expected" to be able to acquire the relevant qualification or experience required under Rule 3.28 within three years to support the proposed codification of the waiver. In fact, the onus should be on the listed issuer to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Exchange that upon the expiry of the 3-year waiver or "hand-holding" period, the unqualified person should be able to acquire the knowledge and skills necessary and expected of a company secretary of a Hong Kong listed issuer and thus be regarded as a person with relevant qualification or experience under Rule 3.28.

In view of the above, the waiver from the requirements under Rule 3.28 should not be codified and only be granted on a case-by-case or exception basis, taking into account the objective factors such as length of employment with the issuer, relevant trainings taken, professional qualifications in other jurisdictions, etc. and not only the factors set out in the proposed Note 3 to Rule 3.28, such as the location of the principal business activities and hand-holding by a qualified person during the waiver period.

12. Do you agree with the proposals (a) to provide an exemption for Main Board listed issuers that are banking companies or insurance companies from including a working capital statement, subject to appropriate alternative disclosures in their listing documents and transaction circulars if they are able to meet the same conditions as those set out in Main Board Rule 8.21A(2), and (b) to limit Main Board Rule 8.21A(2) so that the exemption applies only to banking companies or insurance companies, subject to alternative disclosures in their listing documents and the conditions as described in paragraph 73 of the Consultation Paper?

Yes

No

You may provide reasons for your views.

Agree. The solvency and capital adequacy information will be more meaningful and appropriate to reflect the liquidity of a listed insurance company than a working capital statement as required under Chapters 8 and 14 of the Main Board Listing Rules. Suggest to delete "and the Exchange is satisfied" in the proposed Rule 14.66(10) as otherwise the Exchange would be required to confirm to the issuer that conditions (a), (b) and (c) in such Rule have been demonstrated to their satisfaction.
