Yes

No

You may provide reasons for your views.

I strongly disagree with the codification because of the following reasons:

1. I did not see any necessities of the codification. The codification may weaken the regulatory objectives of the current Rule 3.28 because it has a negative implication that the waiver in Rule 3.28 is easily accessible.
2. It gives rise to a negative view to the public that any employee of a listed company may become a company secretary of that company so long as a waiver is given to that company.
3. The role of company secretaries is increasing important in corporate governance perspective. The codification has a connotation that a professional matter (i.e. corporate governance matters) governed by non-qualified person.
4. Employee who is familiar with the business/affairs of a listed company does not mean that he/she is familiar with the regulatory compliance, such as the Listing Rules, the Companies Ordinance, the securities and Futures Ordinance and relevant regulations.
5. A non-qualified person assisted by a qualified company secretary for a period of three years does not mean such non-qualified person would gain sufficient knowledge or experience to discharge a company secretary's duty.

I am of the view that strictly compliance with rule 3.28 is crucial to sustain good corporate governance. In this connection, the Exchange should stop granting any waiver.

12. Do you agree with the proposals (a) to provide an exemption for Main Board listed issuers that are banking companies or insurance companies from including a working capital statement, subject to appropriate alternative disclosures in their listing documents and transaction circulars if they are able to meet the same conditions as those set out in Main Board Rule 8.21A(2), and (b) to limit Main Board Rule 8.21A(2) so that the exemption applies only to banking companies or insurance companies, subject to alternative disclosures in their listing documents and the conditions as described in paragraph 73 of the Consultation Paper?
