Corporate governance is becoming more and more important in today's world and is becoming more and more complex in view of the changing environment of the world. It is important to maintain a high standard of corporate governance in HK in order to gain investors' confidence to continue to make investments in HK. A qualified professional to take up the position of company secretary in a listed company is required as company secretary has an important role to play to enhance and maintain corporate governance standard of listed corporations. Allowing an unqualified person to act as the named company secretary of a listed corporation is a backward step with an indication that corporate governance is of less significant in listed corporations' operations. It is the responsibility of the stock exchange of Hong Kong to safeguard and maintain the high standard of corporate governance in Hong Kong to enable Hong Kong to continue to prosper. ;.
