Market development

Listing

The year saw continued progress in listing-related reform initiatives. In January, the Financial Services and Treasury Bureau (FSTB) and the Securities and Futures Commission (SFC) each published a consultation paper on certain legislative proposals to enhance the regulation of listed companies, in particular to introduce statutory backing for major listing requirements. In February, HKEx published a consultation paper on establishing a new listing decision-making structure. The proposed new structure comprises a Listing Policy Committee, a Listing Decisions Panel, a Listing Review Panel, an Adjudicator and a Disciplinary Review Panel. Public consultation revealed support for the direction of the reform.

Initiatives were also undertaken by the SFC to facilitate the listing process. It released in August a consultation paper on possible reforms to the prospectus regime in which a unified offering regime for all regulated investments is proposed. The paper also proposed greater liability for sponsors and underwriters in respect of the information disclosed in prospectuses. In June the SFC released a consultation paper proposing specific entry criteria and ongoing compliance requirements for sponsors.

Regulatory changes were made by the SFC which would facilitate the development of real estate investment trusts (REITs) in Hong Kong. Authorized collective investment schemes are allowed to invest in REITs listed on any stock exchange, and geographical restrictions on overseas investments by authorized REITs are lifted. The first REIT – Link REIT – was listed in Hong Kong in November and raised HK$21.6 billion, the world's largest REIT so far.

Progress was made towards a purely web-based news dissemination regime, as is already adopted for GEM. In November HKEx released an exposure paper proposing that Main Board issuers publish only a short-form announcement in the newspapers and post the full version on HKEx's website and the issuer's own website.

Trading, clearing and settlement

In 2005, enhancements were made to secondary market services and regulations.

HKEx further enhanced its stock trading systems and parameters. It upgraded the capacity of the Third Generation Automatic Order Matching and Execution System (AMS/3) and completed the Phase I roll-out of SDNet – the next generation telecommunication network integrating HKEx's securities and derivatives systems. Phase I involved the integration of the derivatives trading and clearing systems and data services system. In July, HKEx reduced the minimum trading spreads for shares above HK$30 from the previous range of HK$0.1 to HK$2.5 to a new range of HK$0.05 to HK$5. The maximum number of outstanding orders per price queue in AMS/3 was increased from 2,000 to 4,000, effective on 21 November 2005.

The securities clearing house, Hong Kong Securities Clearing Company Limited (HKSCC), introduced improvements to its money settlement services and nominee services. These included a greater use of the Real Time Gross Settlement (RTGS) system and fee reduction.

The suspension and re-instatement mechanism for the investor compensation levies came into effect on 28 October 2005. Under the mechanism, the levy can be suspended when the net asset value (NAV) of the Investor Compensation Fund (ICF) exceeds HK$1.4 billion and subsequently reinstated when the NAV of the ICF falls below HK$1 billion. Accordingly, securities and futures trading investor compensation levies have been suspended since 19 December 2005.

In the light of heavy investor interest in the derivative warrants market, in November 2005, the SFC proposed a six-point plan to improve the market. The plan involves tightening requirements for liquidity providers, speeding up further issues of derivative warrants, banning commission rebate schemes, publishing new marketing guidelines, requiring "plain language" listing documents, and providing more investor education.

Main Board – Equities

The year saw the listing in Hong Kong of the first China-incorporated commercial bank – Bank of Communications (the fifth largest lender in Mainland China by assets), and the first Mainland China state-owned commercial bank – China Construction Bank. The latter raised over HK$71.5 billion and was the ever largest IPO in Hong Kong.

At the end of 2005, there were 934 listed companies on the Main Board versus 892 in 2004. Among them, 80 companies were H share companies and 86 were red chips, with a year-end market capitalization of HK$1,280.5 billion and HK$1,710.0 billion respectively. The S&P/HKEx LargeCap Index grew 8% year-on-year to 17,025 points. The Hang Seng Composite Index closed at 1,947 points, increased by 6% over the previous year. While the utilities sector and the commerce and industry sector of HSI rose 4% and 17% respectively, the finance sector dropped 6% and the properties sector dropped 1%.
