Issue 1: Use of websites for communication with shareholders

Question 1.1: Do you agree that the Rules should be amended so as to remove the requirement that all listed issuers must, irrespective of their place of incorporation, comply with a standard which is no less onerous than that imposed from time to time under Hong Kong law for listed issuers incorporated in Hong Kong with regard to how they make corporate communications available to shareholders (as proposed in paragraph 1.20(a) of the Combined Consultation Paper)?

- Yes
 No

Please provide reasons for your views.

One of the many reasons for an investor to invest in a listed issuer incorporated outside Hong Kong may be to enjoy the convenience arising from a greater use of electronic communications with shareholders. The Exchange should respect the wish of the shareholder in this respect.

Question 1.2: Do you agree that the Rules should be amended so as to allow a listed issuer to avail itself of a prescribed procedure for deeming consent from a shareholder to the listed issuer sending or supplying corporate communications to him by making them available on its website?

- Yes
 No

Please provide reasons for your views.

The proposed deeming procedure will not take away the freedom of a shareholder to exercise his choice to receive corporate communications electronically or in hard copies.

Question 1.3: In order for a listed issuer under our proposal to be allowed to send or supply corporate communications to its shareholders by making them available on its website, its shareholders must first have resolved in general meeting that it may do so or its constitutional documents must contain provision to that effect. Do you concur that, as in the UK, the listed issuer should also be required to have asked each shareholder individually to agree that the listed issuer may send corporate communications generally, or the corporate communications in question, to him by means of the listed issuer's website and to have waited for a specified period of time before the shareholder is deemed to have consented to a corporate communication being made available to him solely on the listed issuer's website?

- Yes
 No

Please provide reasons for your views.

It is not necessary for the listed issuer to ask each shareholder individually, provided there is a procedure in place for the shareholders to request a hard copy of the corporate communication.

Question 1.4: If your answer to Question 1.3 is “yes”, do you agree that:

(a) the specified period of time for which the listed issuer should be required to have waited before the shareholder is deemed to have consented to a corporate communication being made available to him solely on the listed issuer’s website should be 28 days;

- Yes
- No

(b) where a shareholder has refused to a corporate communication being made available to him solely on the listed issuer’s website, the listed issuer should be precluded from seeking his consent again for a certain period of time; and

- Yes
- No

(c) if your answer to (b) is “yes”, should the period be 12 months?

- Yes
- No

Please provide reasons for your views.

Do you have any other comments you consider necessary to supplement your reply to this Question 1.4?

Question 1.5: Do you consider that the Rules should be amended to remove the requirement for express, positive confirmation from a shareholder for the sending of a corporate communication by a listed issuer to the shareholder on a CD?

- Yes
 No

Please provide reasons for your views.

Removing the requirement for express, positive confirmation does not take away the free choice of a shareholder to receive or not to receive a corporate communication on a CD.

Question 1.6: Do you agree that the draft Rules at Appendix 1 will implement the proposals set out in Issue 1 of the Combined Consultation Paper?

- Yes
 No

Please provide reasons for your views.

- Yes
 No

- Yes
 No

Issue 3: Qualified accountants

Question 3.1: Do you agree that the requirement in the Main Board Rules for a qualified accountant should be removed?

- Yes
 No

Please provide reasons for your views.

The responsibility of a qualified accountant includes the oversight of the issuer and its subsidiaries in connection with its financial reporting procedures and internal controls and compliance with the requirements under the Exchange Listing Rules. From the perspective of shareholder protection, to ask anyone other than a qualified accountant to carry out the above important job will pose unnecessary risks to all investors, existing or potential, in the Hong Kong stock markets.

Question 3.2: Do you agree that the requirement in the GEM Rules for a qualified accountant should be removed?

- Yes
 No

Please provide reasons for your views.

Investors in GEM should deserve similar protection as mentioned in question 3.1 above

Issue 4: Review of sponsor's independence

Question 4.1: Do you agree that the Rules regarding sponsor's independence should be amended such that a sponsor is required to demonstrate independence at any time from the earlier of the date when the sponsor agrees its terms of engagement with the new applicant and when the sponsor commences work as a sponsor to the new applicant up to the listing date or the end of the price stabilisation period, whichever is the later?

- Yes
 No

Please provide reasons for your views.

Issue 6: Bonus issues of a class of securities new to listing

Question 6.1: Do you agree that the requirement for a minimum spread of securities holders at the time of listing under Main Board Rules 8.08(2) and 8.08(3) should be disapplied in the event of a bonus issue of a class of securities new to listing?

10%, with the mandate to issue securities for other purposes retained at not more than 10% (or some other percentage) of the issued share capital? If yes, then what should be the percentage of the issued share capital for issuing securities for such other purposes?

5%, with the mandate to issue securities for other purposes retained at not more than 10% (or some other percentage) of the issued share capital? If yes, then what should the percentage of the issued share capital be for issuing securities for such other purposes?

a percentage other than 10% for any purpose (including to issue securities for cash or (subject to your response to Question 11.4) to satisfy an exercise of convertible securities)? If you support this option, then please state the percentage you consider appropriate. _____

Please provide your comments and suggestions.

No change from the existing rules is considered necessary.

Question 11.3: Should the Exchange amend the current Rules so as to exclude from the calculation of the size limit the number of any securities repurchased by the listed issuer since the granting of the general mandate? (In other words, the listed issuer's issued share capital as at the date of the granting of the general mandate would remain the reference point for the calculation of the size limit, unless the general mandate is refreshed by the shareholders in general meeting.)

Yes

No

If yes, please provide your comments and suggestions.

Question 11.4: Should the Exchange amend the current Rules such that:

- (a) the application of the current prohibition against the placing of securities pursuant to a general mandate at a discount of 20% or more to the “benchmark price” would apply only to placings of shares for cash;
- (b) all issues of securities to satisfy an exercise of warrants, options or convertible securities would need to be made pursuant to a specific mandate from the shareholders; and
- (c) for the purpose of seeking the specific mandate, the listed issuer would be required to issue a circular to its shareholders containing all relevant information?

Yes

No

Question 11.5: Do you have any other comments or suggestions in relation to general mandates? Please specify.

In commenting on the size of the general mandate, I put emphasis on the commercial practicality and administrative convenience for the listed issuers. However, when it comes to the discount to the "benchmark price" under a general mandate, the guiding principle should be minority shareholder protection. The issue price should theoretically be governed by demand and supply. In other words, the discount to the "benchmark price" should be reasonable but not excessive. I consider that the current 20% discount has room for further reduction.

Issue 12: Voting at general meetings

Question 12.1: Should the Exchange amend the Rules to require voting on all resolutions at general meetings to be by poll?

Yes

No

Question 12.2: If your answer to Question 12.1 is “no”, should the Exchange amend the Rules to require voting on all resolutions at annual general meetings to be by poll (in addition to the current requirement for voting by poll on connected transactions, transactions that are subject to independent shareholders’ approval and transactions where an interested shareholder will be required to abstain from voting)?

Yes

No

Question 12.3: If your answer to Question 12.1 is “no”, should the Exchange amend the Rules so that, where the resolution is decided in a manner other than a poll, the listed issuer would be required to make an announcement on the total number of proxy votes in respect of which proxy appointments have been validly made together with: (i) the number of votes exercisable by proxies appointed to vote for the resolution; (ii) the number of votes exercisable by proxies appointed to vote against the resolution; (iii) the number of votes exercisable by proxies appointed to abstain on the resolution; and (iv) the number of votes exercisable by proxies appointed to vote at the proxy’s discretion?

Yes

No

Question 12.4: In the case of listed issuers other than H-share issuers, the Rules currently require 14 days notice for the passing of an ordinary resolution and 21 days notice for the passing of a special resolution. 21 days notice is also required for convening an annual general meeting. In the case of H-share issuers, 45 days notice of shareholder meetings is required under the “Mandatory Provisions for Companies Listing Overseas” for all resolutions. Should the Exchange amend the Rules to provide for a minimum notice period of 28 clear calendar days for convening all general meetings?

 No

If so, should the provision be set out in the Rules (as a mandatory requirement) or in the Code on Corporate Governance Practices as a Code Provision (and therefore subject to the “comply or explain” principle)?

No comment

Question 12.5: If your answer to Question 12.4 is “no”, should the Exchange amend the Rules to provide for a minimum notice period of 28 clear calendar days for convening all annual general meetings, but not extraordinary general meetings (or, depending on the listed issuer’s place of incorporation, special general meetings)?

Question 18.4: Do you agree that the current “black out” periods should be extended to commence from the listed issuer’s year/period end date and end on the date the listed issuer publishes the relevant results announcement?

- Yes
 No

Please provide reasons for your views.

The proposed requirement to extend the current "black out" period is unnecessarily onerous. A balance has to be struck between respecting the personal rights of a director to deal with his personal properties and protecting potential and existing shareholders. The current rules already in place serve the above purposes adequately. There is not a need for further tightening by extending the "black out" period. Moreover, there are other rules and regulations already in place, such as those relating to insider dealing, to help protect the investors. It is not equitable to "punish" all directors just to curb the misbehaviour of a few unscrupulous wrong-doers. Moreover, it is unlikely that those wrong-doers would be stopped by an extended "black out" period.

Question 18.5: Do you agree that there should be a time limit for an issuer to respond to a request for clearance to deal and a time limit for dealing to take place once clearance is given?

Yes

No

Question 18.6: Do you agree that the proposed time limit of 5 business days in each case is appropriate?

Yes

No
