

From: kwanyusingyip [REDACTED]
Sent: Tuesday, November 29, 2005 0:26
To: CVW
Subject: abolition of exposure paper

Dear sir/madam,

Internet is but one of the ways to receive informations.

We all understood computers are invading homes around the world ,but a lot of investors esp small ones are still without one.

For them newspaper is the only way.

The right of investors to obtain listed companies informations must be protected,so is how they choose to obtain it!

It is my view that listed companies should deseminate information about their corporate matters in as many channels as possible,esp newspapers.

Until such time when newspapers become obsolete should we consider abolish the publication of exposure papers

By the way,even with the advent of internet, how many of you are still reading newspapers and books in the old fashion way ?I am!