Hang Seng China Enterprises Index

The benchmark of China companies listed in Hong Kong

HKEX’s HSCEI Options on Futures are effective trading and risk management tools for investors wishing to gain or manage exposure to Mainland China companies listed in Hong Kong amid the growing interest in Mainland-related equities.

Comprehensive product ecosystem

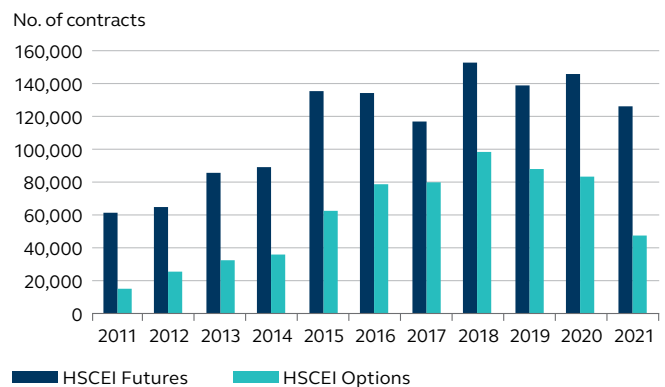

HSCEI is used as the base index for a wide variety of derivatives products. HSCEI futures (introduced in December 2003) and options (introduced in June 2004) have become very popular with increasing domestic and international investors’ participation. Together with Flexible HSCEI Options, Weekly HSCEI Options, and Mini- HSCEI Futures and Options, these contracts provide investors with a set of effective instruments to manage risks in Hong Kong-listed Chinese companies.

Advantages of trading HSCEI Options on Futures

Proven Benchmark	The HSCEI is a widely accepted benchmark for Mainland China companies listed in Hong Kong and seen as a reliable indicator of market performance.
High Liquidity	The HSCEI futures and options markets are characterised by their trading liquidity and the active participation by both local and overseas investors.
High Cost Effectiveness	HSCEI Options on Futures are traded on a margin basis. The margin is only a fraction of the contract value.
Flexible Tool	Options are extremely versatile investment tools with unique risk and reward structures.
Efficient Markets	Standardised options provide orderly, transparent and efficient markets.
Low Counterparty Risk	The HKFE Clearing Corporation Limited, an HKEX subsidiary, acts as a central counterparty to every trade executed through HKEX so the counterparty risk is minimal.

Notice

Participants should ensure the following before engaging in trading or offering Options on Futures products to clients:

- Ensure systems (including front office and back office systems), operational readiness and complete a Readiness Test successfully in the HKEX testing environment.
- Necessary measures taken to ensure the end users/clients understand the settlement mechanism and risk involved in the new product (e.g. Client-facing staff / clear client interface and client education)
- Thorough and effective communication made to the clients prior to offering, specifically, on the differentiations between Options on Index and Options on Futures products.
- Similar to all physically-settled options, an option position holder should be aware that the final P&L of such position would be affected by the price of the underlying asset.
- There may be cases where the delivered position will incur immediate mark-to-market gain/loss (the price of delivered position may not be the same as official settlement price).
- Participants who do not wish positions to settle into futures could opt to square their positions before expiry or consider the cash-settled Options on Index.
- Participants should closely monitor and manage their risk at all times.
