

Overview

- Leveraged and Inverse Products (L&I Products) performance simulators are provided by L&I Product issuers to facilitate the understanding of L&I Products to interested retail investors. The performance simulators allow investors to select a historical time period and simulate the performance of the L&I Product during that time period based on historical data. The historical period available in the performance simulator covers the period since the launch of the L&I Product.
- Please see the Securities and Futures Commission's Supplemental Circular on Leveraged and Inverse Products for further details.
- This document contains hyperlinks to the performance simulator for each L&I Product when they are listed.
