Additional Page-

In general, we agree with the proposal being made in respect of the internal audit function of issuers, in particular, by upgrading RBP C.2.6 to a CP. However, in addition to requiring an internal audit function which is in line with international practices adopted in other major financial markets, we recommend that the proposed CP should also emphasise the independent nature of the internal audit function with direct reporting line and responsibility to the audit committee while there may be an administrative reporting line to senior management, i.e., CEO.

We support the proposed clarifications being made to the new Notes as described in paragraph 89 of the Consultation Paper, and we suggest that additional clarifications are added to the Notes stating that compliance with the proposed CP may be achieved by way of: i) an in-house internal audit function where sufficient breadth and depth of expertise and experience are deemed to be available; ii) an in-house internal audit function with co-sourcing arrangement with outside audit firms/resources to supplement certain areas of expertise that the in-house internal audit function may be lacking, e.g., treasury, IT, cyber security; or iii) outsourcing arrangements with external audit firms/resources which may be deemed by the audit committee and management to be more effective, in view of factors such as access to available qualified internal audit resources in the market, the cost of maintaining an in-house qualified internal audit function, etc.

Furthermore, the paper should emphasize the need for internal audit function with a good understanding of IT governance and IT risks, and hence the need for professional qualifications including CISA, CISM, CGEIT and CRISC.
