Dear Sirs,

HKEx Orion Market Data Platform Phase 2 - Derivatives Market (OMD-D) Implementation: Publication of Information Paper and Interface Specifications

We are pleased to inform you that an Information Paper and the first version of Interface Specifications for HKEx Orion Market Data Platform Phase 2 – Derivatives Market (OMD-D) are now published.

HKEx Orion Market Data Platform (OMD) will be rolled out in phases with securities market data tentatively in Q2 2013 and derivatives market data tentatively in Q1 2014. The Information Paper published today provides the latest project information of the OMD and its implementation in the derivatives market (OMD-D).

OMD-D Interface Specifications provides details on transmission messages and functionalities provided via the OMD-D datafeed products. .

With reference to the Information Paper and the Interface Specifications, you may determine which product(s) can meet your business needs, and will best suit your operational efficiency. You are also advised to assess and ensure you have the necessary expertise and skills to process the selected product(s) and to plan for corresponding system development and infrastructure setup to interface with OMD-D.

For planning purpose, the enrollment for OMD-D will be kicked off from late Q1 2013. Fees schedule on OMD-D datafeed products is available on HKEx website. An information package detailing the enrollment process and on-boarding arrangements of OMD-D will be issued in Q2 2013 tentatively.

The Information Paper and Interface Specifications for OMD-D are also available on the HKEx website under Data Products section (<http://www.hkex.com.hk/marketdata>).
